

www.CalAutoMuseum.org

Name That Traffic Sign

Can you draw a line from the description to the picture of the right traffic sign?

These images are from the Manual of Traffic Signs, by Richard C. Moeur (<http://www.trafficsign.us/>)

www.CalAutoMuseum.org

Name That Traffic Sign

Can you draw a line from the description to the picture of the right traffic sign?

Crossroad

Slippery when wet

Indicates handicap parking

No U-Turn

Turn left or go straight

No left turn

The image shows a matching exercise. On the left, there are six text descriptions of traffic signs. On the right, there are six corresponding traffic sign images. Lines connect each description to its correct sign: "Crossroad" connects to the yellow diamond crossroad sign; "Slippery when wet" connects to the yellow diamond sign with a car skidding; "Indicates handicap parking" connects to the green rectangular sign with a wheelchair icon; "No U-Turn" connects to the red circle with a black U-turn arrow and a red slash; "Turn left or go straight" connects to the white square sign with a black arrow pointing left and straight up; "No left turn" connects to the red circle with a black left-turn arrow and a red slash.

These images are from the Manual of Traffic Signs, by Richard C. Moeur (<http://www.trafficsign.us/>)

www.CalAutoMuseum.org

Name That Traffic Sign

Can you draw a line from the description to the picture of the right traffic sign?

Railroad Crossing

Flagger (seen in construction zones)

Bicycle Lane/Route

No parking

No trucks allowed

Merge

These images are from the Manual of Traffic Signs, by Richard C. Moeur (<http://www.trafficsign.us/>)

www.CalAutoMuseum.org

Name That Traffic Sign

Can you draw a line from the description to the picture of the right traffic sign?

Two way traffic

Keep right

Children at Play

Example of a sign that tells you how fast to drive

Two signs that let you know not to park in this area

Picnic Area

